We found on investigation that it would cost at least $500 00 to make improvements asked for on this school house; and inas'much as you had only appropriated $200 00 to do the same, we felt that we had not the right to spend $500 00 when the town had instructed us to spend $200 00; therefore, we did no work on this building.

This report shows the earnings of this department from June 1, '03 to March 1, '04, a period of nine months, but it shows expenditures for a year. This is done for the purpose of having the water year open and close with our municipal year. This account also shows quite a sum paid which properly belonged to the construction department, but for want of necessary funds it was thought better to have this department meet the same than to charge it to the contingent fund of the town.

In the interest of good schools and better schools in the future, I consider it necessary to speak clearly and frankly concerning those things which I have found worthy of praise or blame during the present year.

In a growing town of this size constant improvement and repairs are necessary in all branches of the municipal service in order to provide against the expenditure of large sums of money in any one year.

In the school department especially, some improvement should be visible from year to year, in school equipment and teaching force as upon the training of the children of the present day depends the success of the future business men of the town.

Only a few years ago it was possible to point out numerous examples of men who had forged to the front through sheer force of character or will without much education, but as the world has become better educated these examples have become less and less frequent, until today success depends largely upon a thorough education and the training to be derived therefrom.

In this report I shall try and confine myself strictly to those things which I consider along the lines of advancement in the past or necessary for advancement in the future.

Under the efficient management of the former superintendent the larger schools had been carefully graded, but the grades were not doing uniform work throughout the town. In order to make the work more systematic, and enable the teachers in the rural schools to give their pupils the same work as was being done in the larger schools, a course of study was arranged, and put in operation at the beginning of the fall term.

The course of study as now prepared is merely provisional and where inadequate is being fitted to the needs of the schools, but as soon as completed, a printed copy should be made, in order that the work already accomplished may not be lost, and that it may serve as a guide to teachers in the future.

A comparison of last year's text book account with this year's will show that last year a balance of about $60 was turned back into the treasury, while this year the account is overrun. The increased expenditure is due to the fact, that last year there were outstanding bills against the town, which had to be paid from this year's appropriation. Every bill is in at the present time, and the new year will have a clean account.

During the year I have sold a number of books to parents for their children to use either at home or in the schools. I believe this is a good custom, and should be continued by those parents who are able to buy their children books, as a second hand book is likely to contain those germs which may prove fatal to a child in delicate health.

For some years there has been great difficulty experienced in providing seats for the increasing number of children in the Primary and Intermediate rooms. This year the schools have been more congested than ever, and with between one hundred and forty or fifty in the Primary room, it has been necessary to place three in a seat. This number of children in one room violates every law of health, and hampers both the pupils and teachers in their work. The first grade, especially, has been deprived of its rights, as it has been necessary to dismiss it an hour early each session, in order to give the other two grades their needed time. This condition demands the immediate action of the town.

I would suggest that the town divide the basement of Columbian hall into two rooms, one to be used for the first grade, the other to be used for an ungraded school. The ungraded school to be used for the benefit of those children who can attend school only a limited portion of the year.

As the schools are now arranged, when a pupil enters in the middle of the year, since he is not able to keep along with his former class, he has to drop back a year. In an ungraded school the work could be adapted to the pupil, and only such work would be given, as would prove of assistance to him.

The school in the Anderson District, so called, was discontinued in the eleventh week of the fall term, owing to the fact that there had been an average attendance of only four scholars. This action was taken according to the requirements of the School Law which states that, "any public school failing to maintain an average attendance for any school year, of at least eight pupils, shall be and hereby is suspended, unless the town in which said school is located shall by vote instruct its superintending school committee to maintain said school "

It now rests with the town to decide whether the school shall be continued next year.

The money appropriated for District No. 2 was not used, as the Chairman of the Selectmen found upon investigation, that the lowest estimates set upon the repairs needed for the building, were over five hundred dollars. The amount of money appropriated was two hundred, and he did not feel justified in expending more than the town had allotted.

The school houses throughout the town need to be painted, and whitewashed inside, as fast as the yearly appropriation will allow. Nothing has been done to many of them for years, and they are getting rather dingy.

The year in the High school has been characterized by its usual good work. The number of pupils is constantly increasing; the attendance for this year being forty three. The course of study as revised by the principal will be appended to this report to be referred to by those interested in the school.

Respectfully submitted,

P. T. Pearson, Superintendent of Schools.
